Team VASS 350 Winter Lined Jacket

Vass are pleased to introduce the new 'TEAM VASS 350 WINTER' range.

This range has been developed for Sea Fishing (Boat and Shore) to resist the most extreme wind and rain. The Vass-Tex 350 material is heavy duty and tough whilst maintaining a supple and flexible handle. This ensures that the garments are easy to wear when fishing and less restrictive than most heavy-duty rainwear. It's important to know that the Vass-Tex 350 ranges are ideally suited for anglers that are usually fishing on the shore or in a boat for long periods during extreme wind and rain. Its waterproofness is very high (up to 50,000mm) therefore is not breathable (although it does have some internal moisture wicking properties to help with comfort).

Therefore it's not recommended for anglers that require lightweight, breathable garments (with lower waterproofness) for use in warmer or less extreme conditions. Like all products, it's important to select your equipment and clothing according to your requirements.

Some describe the 'Team Vass 350' as a 'Modern Sports Oil Skin for Professional Sea Anglers'!!

VASS Stud Information

NEW VASS MEGA-STUD EDITION

In addition to Vass's usual high quality studded sole options, Vass have announced the introduction of their new Vass Mega-Stud. Not only does the sole offer more studs, but the Vass Mega-Studs are longer and protrude a good 4mm from the chunky cleated sole. These are combined with a selection of standard Vass studs which are placed in specific areas of the sole to create optimum grip you can rely on!

Vass Quality Tungsten Carbide Stud in boot sole

Vass Mega-Stud (Tungsten Carbide) in boot sole

Both the original Vass Studs and the new Vass Mega-Studs boast a Tough Tungsten Core ensuring a spike like grip coupled with hard wearing properties. This provides even more grip on slimy/mossy rock and stoney surfaces. If you are fishing steeper grassy banks the Vass Mega-Stud provides extra grip by clawing into the ground (similar concept to rugby boots). The base of the studs are machined deep into the sole and flanged ensuring that they don't drive through your foot over time. This also helps distribute your weight more evenly over the sole of your foot. Vass Mega-Stud edition is now available on many Vass products (including waders) using the new Vass Boots.

VASS Warm Neoprene Boot and Wader Liner

Designed as a boot liner (not a tight neoprene sock) to insulate your boot or lower part of your wader during the colder months. These boot liners also offer extra comfort and are machine washable.

Puncture Repair Tips

This is an alternative method to patching which offers a neat and tidy and very reliable repair on our quality PVC Waders and Breathable Waders.

From the Trade!

STEP 1

Locate the damaged area on fabric.

STEP 2

Using masking tape, tape over the damaged area. This ensures that the repair sealant doesn't leak through on the larger holes and tears.

STEP 3

Fold the wader to access the reverse of the fabric. Then lay this area in a flat position ready for Step 4.

Note: The fabric reverse provides an ideal bonding area for the sealant and ensures a nicer looking repair from the outside.

STEP 4

Apply Wader Repair Sealant to the damaged area on the reverse of the Wader. Allow to dry (see sealant manufacturer's instructions for drying time. It's usually 8-12 hours unless a rapid set sealant is used).

STEP 5

Once dry, check the repair has been successful, if another coat is required repeat step 3 and 4.

Using Waders Safely

Deep water can be dangerous! By using any waders, sea boots or coveralls with welded boots you have an increased risk of sinking should the water pour into the inside of the wader. Therefore, if you fall overboard, wade in too deep (water level is higher than the top of your wader) the waders will fill with water. Should this happen the remaining air in the waders can lift your legs to the surface and possibly submerge your head under the water surface. A rescue from this situation is difficult without help from another person or an adequate safety method. If this unusual event should occur please remain calm and release your waders from your body and swim to safety. Remember you can always collect your equipment and waders once you have ensured your own safety! We always recommend using a safety Self Inflating Life Vest which automatically inflates if you fall in. We hope you enjoy your wader experience in safety.
